

ROTARIAN WRITES TO "BOYS AT HOME"

Interesting Letter On Principles
Of Rotary Sent Here By L.
P. Pettus—Meet Tonight

Discussion of the question of changing the hour of meeting from night to noon and the day of the week will occupy the attention of Richmond Rotarians at their regular weekly session at the Hotel Glyndon tonight. There will probably be several applications for new memberships brought up at this meeting.

The local Rotary Club has just received a very highly appreciated letter from a former Richmond man, who is a leading Rotarian of Savannah, Ga.—Luke P. Pettus. His many friends "back home," Rotarians and others, will be interested in what he writes:

Savannah, Ga., June 5, 1922
Mr. President and Rotarians:
Across the chasm of nearly a half century, colored by the roses from memory's path in a childhood in Kentucky, I would congratulate you upon the planting of Rotary in Richmond.

My name is Luke P. Pettus, born at Kingston, Ky., fifty-two years ago, a charter member of the Rotary Club of Savannah, I thank you.

I knew that Richmond of long ago when McCreary was in his prime, when Bronston was the vigorous prosecutor, and Smith was the powerful counselor.

I knew that Richmond which had only a branch of the Louisville & Nashville for rail transportation—long before the Kentucky Central bored its way through the cliffs along the Kentucky river to connect the capital of Madison with the outside world.

I knew that Richmond which served as a mobilization point for Kentucky mules, to be driven over the mountain trail for service in the cotton fields of the South.

I knew that Richmond which sent forth her sons to become chief executives of other states and ambassadors to foreign countries, and have felt the utmost pride in their services and achievements.

Knowing that Richmond of long ago and the sterling people who made it, it is most gratifying to me to know that the Rotary spirit has so developed in its posterity as to manifest itself in a Rotary Club.

Believe me, Mr. President, Rotary could not be planted in a more fertile soil. The brotherhood that exists between Kentuckians is the sweetest heritage that comes to one who has strayed from his native state. I have known it on the great Western plains where the cowboy reigned. I have known it in the frozen North where men staked all in the quest of gold. I have known it in mid ocean where a voice far up in the rigging would add a bar of "My Old Kentucky Home" to the roar of the seas. I have known it at the national capital where the Kentuckian never fails to measure up to his position and never fails to receive the inspiring sympathy of his fellow Kentuckians.

As you progress into Rotary, Mr. President, you will find it to be a reversal of theories which have masqueraded the ages as the truth.

It combats the contention that business and friendship are incompatible.

It impugns the idea that "business is business" and in its conduct practices not in keeping with the Golden Rule are permissible.

It nullifies the notion that money is all—the sum and substance of human happiness—just so it is acquired within the law.

It denies worthiness to no lawful and honorable occupation, and urges the acme of efficiency that the individual may all the better serve—serve his fellowmen, serve his country, serve his community.

It commits it converts to the sublime doctrine of Service Above Self and fuses them into a living, loving, active and indomitable force pleading higher business ethics and higher types of citizenship.

Rotary crowns Service with a matchless majesty. It contem-

Half of Scalp Torn From Head In Beauty Parlor

WILLIAMS BLOCKS BONUS IN SENATE

(By Associated Press)
Washington, June 8—An effort to present the soldiers' bonus bill to the Senate today was blocked by Senator Williams, democrat, of Mississippi. Chairman McCumber gave notice that he would make another effort later to get the measure to the Senate calendar.

Unanimous consent was required to present the bill and it was to McCumber's report that Williams, opponent of the bill refused. Senator Ashurst, democrat, of Arizona, urged McCumber to move that the bill be received. McCumber said a gentleman's agreement that the tariff bill not be laid aside got controversial and the measure was prevented. McCumber said later he would ask that the tariff bill be laid aside and the bonus taken up. Borah, republican, of Idaho, opponent of the bonus, said he hoped both sides would be consulted. McCumber then said "This is an American bill and I hope we will be able to dispose of it as an American measure." Senator Underwood, of Alabama, democratic leader, announced his opposition to the bill and said he would be glad if it could go over until after the November election so the people could voice their sentiments of the measure.

CASH ELIMINATED FROM BONUS BILL

(By Associated Press)
Washington, June 8—The soldiers' bonus bill was formally presented in the Senate today. In the accompanying report, Chairman McCumber placed the probable cost to the government at $3,845,000,000 spread over a period of 43 years. The most important change from the previous bills is the elimination of the cash bonus and reclamation features. As drafted, the bill would give the veterans the right to select any one of four plans which were previously announced.

NO LOAN TO GERMANY NOW

(By Associated Press)
Paris, France, June 8—All idea of an international loan to Germany was abandoned by the committee of bankers and they are meeting today to agree upon the form of their report to be submitted to the Reparations Commission. Unanimity of the lenders regarded as the prime requisite in making the loan, is said to be absent. Another condition was that the credit of Germany must be clearly outlined.

Six Years for Killing at Corbin

Williamsburg, Ky., June 8—George Lockhart was under sentence to serve six years in the penitentiary for the murder of Wiley Smith in Corbin in October 1920. He had been tried before and was sentenced to life imprisonment, but the case was reversed by the Court of Appeals.

plates no human happiness in which Service has not been definite, distinct, dominant. It measures Success by the Service rendered in its making. It melts the icy heart of selfishness and causes it to burst into bloom with all those little kindnesses born of love and all those little sympathies that make life worth while.

I thank you.

MAGISTRATES REJECT TWO BRIDGE BIDS

Bids for the construction of two badly needed bridges in the county were rejected at the regular monthly meeting of the Fiscal Court Tuesday. One bridge is desired over Clear Creek between Union City and Doyleville. The Fiscal Court understood that promoters desiring the bridge would put up a quarter of the cost, but it seems they have failed to do this so far. A concrete bridge over this creek would cost $3,000, it was estimated. Another bridge is desired over Oldham's Branch near Panola. The promoters represented by Jesse Broadbuss, are ready with their part, it appears, but the court considered that bids were too high. A bid to build the bridge of steel was put in at $1,150 by Moynahan & Forbes, of Richmond, and a bid to build it of concrete was put in at $1,995 by the Luten Bridge Company. Neither of these bids provides for making the fills, however, and it was reported to the court that another firm had agreed to do the work for $1,250 and make the fills. All bids were rejected and new bids will be asked for.

Squire Dave Smith, of Berea, was the only magistrate absent when Judge Goodloe called the fiscal court to order and he was kept away by a funeral.

An order was entered providing for rock to be put on the Pooey's pike and rolled before the July term of court.

A contract for work on the Kinksville and Round Hill pike was let to Moynahan & Forbes at $42. An estimate will be made as to the cost of tarvia on this road, also.

The members of the Fiscal Court decided to make personal investigation of the road work being done in the county. The magistrates will accordingly visit all road work in a body on June 13th.

An appropriation of $1,000 to cover the cost of the county infirmary's expense was allowed. New Kentucky Statutes were allowed for Judge Goodloe, County Attorney Chenault and County Clerk Turley and will be ordered for the use of these officials.

CLASS DAY PROVES DELIGHTFUL TO ALL

Madison High School Graduates
Show Remarkable Histrionic
Talent In Annual Event

On Wednesday evening at the Opera House, the Senior class of Madison High School gave their entertaining and enjoyable program which was so far beyond amateur performances that it took high rank in the professional class. Many who are fine judges of literary productions complimented all on the program on their ease and poise, saying they surpassed any high school graduates they ever saw. The house was packed and the audience enjoyed every number.

All the graduates who gave the regular class numbers before the play conducted themselves like veteran platform speakers, and surprised the audience with their flashes of wit and humor.

Mary Powers and Anna Catherine Hugely surpassed the expectations of their friends in originality, ease on the stage and excellent delivery. Those who rendered this part of the program were as follows: Dorothy Terrill, Mary Powers, Edna Mullinix, Marshall Hurst, Anna Catherine Hugely, Thelma McClintock, the high school orchestra and the graduates in the class song.

Then followed the class play, "The Laughing Cure," which, excepting the play of the bright and talented class of 1918, was the best play Madison High has had in many a year. The audience was kept in a hilarious mood and in a state of hearty laughter from start to finish.

The persons in the play, Lafon Wilson, Talton Stone, J. S. Blewins, Harold Gabby, Edna Mullinix, Dorothy Terrill, Josephine Yates, Betsy Igo and Kathleen O'Neil, showed unusual ease on the stage and manifested talent as players. Those who are in the class of professionals are Lafon Wilson, Betsy Igo, Edna Mullinix, Harold Gabby, and Dorothy Terrill.

As a whole the program was the best the city school has ever had and it set a high water mark for Madison High.

The formal commencement program for Thursday evening is found in another column.

UNION LEADERS SAY STRIKE JULY 15

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, June 8—Railroad unions continued preparations today for a strike vote with the leaders predicting the referendum would be heavily in favor of suspension of work in protest against the wage reductions ordered by the Railroad Labor Board. These predictions were made in the face of statements by several railroad presidents that the strike sentiment is largely confined to the union leaders and that there is good reason to doubt whether the workers are saturated with it. The labor leaders say the suspension is likely to become effective July 15th.
